Sinatra Denies Sleeping Pill Rumor

Lake Tahoe Calif., Sept. 1 —(AP)—Crooner Frank Sinatra today hotly denied rumors he swallowed an overdose of sleeping pills...

"I've never heard anything so damn wild and ridiculous," Sinatra told newsmen.

Referring to rumors which said he took the pills after a spat with Screen Actress Ava Gardner...

"This would be a hell of a time to do away with myself. I've been trying to lick this thing for two years and I've practically got it licked now."

His friends said that was a reference to his wife's refusal to free him so he could marry Miss Gardner.

Sinatra, who's fulfilling singing engagements in Nevada, is now establishing divorcee residence here.

He gave this account of what probably started the suicide rumors:

"This whole thing took place Monday night, which makes me laugh."

"Ava and I were out that night and I drank a lot of brandy. When I dropped Ava off and went back to my place I couldn't sleep, and no wonder."

"So I got up and took a couple of second tablets, but they kind of stuck in my chest. I got a little worried and called a friend of mine who runs the steak house here and he sent me a doctor."

Four New Red Divisions Are Spotted in Korea

U. S. EGH Army Headquarters, Korea, Sept. 1 —(AP)—Four new Red divisions were spotted on Korea's east-central front today as bloody fighting continued on the slopes of jagged mountain peaks.

AP Correspondent George McArthur said there were "some indications" the Reds might jump off shortly on a major offensive.

An Allied officer told McArthur the reinforced Red forces in the East could throw "a whale of a blow" at the U.N. positions. But he added he did not believe the Reds could appreciably dent the Allied line.

There was stepped-up action on land and sea and in the air, Allied officers said their divisions were engaged in the heaviest fighting since the now-suspended truce talks started in Kaesong July 10.

Bombers and fighters attacked Red supply and communications facilities in North Korea.

Communist and U. N. jets tangled in a 20-minute dogfight high over Northwestern Korea. All Allied planes returned to base, Maj. Winston C. Marshall of Raleigh, N. C., was credited with probably destroying one Russian-type MiG.

The ground fighting centered on the central and east-central fronts. Gains of up to four miles were hammered out in the east, and some gains were registered in the center of the 100-mile battlefield.

The Allies were stalled in a savage all-day battle for "bloody ridge" on the east-central front. AP Photographer Bob Oley reported the Reds fought to the death from deep bunkers and machine gun nests.

To the west, Communists counterattacked and took a hill they lost Friday. But the U. N. forces slashed back and recaptured it.

When the fighting died down, more than 400 Communist dead were counted on the hillside.

Large Part of Nation Swelters

By The Associated Press

The Nation's weather map was a study in contrasts today.

While the southern states, the Ohio valley and the central Atlantic seaboard continued to swelter in temperatures around 100 degrees or higher, cool air had overspread the northern and central states.

McAlester, Okla., and Presidio, Tex. had 108 yesterday. Magnolia, Ark. had 107 and readings of 100 or more were commonplace.

The cooler air meanwhile had spread into Pennsylvania, Ohio, northern Illinois and Indiana, and into Missouri and Kansas. In Chicago, a summer's high of 92.3 was hit yesterday afternoon, but the thermometer then dipped more than 20 degrees in a few hours.

Showers fell early today in Missouri, eastern Ohio, north and western Pennsylvania, New York, and at several spots in the northern plains. A light drizzle fell from Northeastern Iowa eastward across Southern Michigan.

Wars of Today Are About as Needed to Happiness of Mankind as Yellow Fever

By HAL BOYLE

New York, (AP)—War is for people who don't know any better—or who can't help themselves.

If interrupts or destroys the chief pleasure of this world—which is to live happily.

War is the last report of a nation that tells another nation it must have its way, by force if necessary.

The fact it also says its goal is peace is confusing. By peace it means, "I want my own way and my own system."

Wars, birthed by ambition or principle, have tended to end in the same way: they renew chaos instead of achieving order.

All leaders, dictatorial or democratic, throughout history have sent millions of men to bloody death on strange battlefields to win a victory by force of arms that can only be temporary.

SMALL BOY'S DREAM—Representing a strange, new world, the likes of which he's never seen, is the big helicopter that captures the attention of a small Korean boy at the U.N.'s Imjin River truce camp. Thirty Hempstead Home Club Women Leave Tuesday for 5-Day Tour of North Arkansas

Thirty Hempstead Home Club women from Hempstead county will leave Tuesday morning, September 4, for a five-day tour through North Arkansas.

While the secret bargaining talks with the Independent Mine, Mill and Smelters Workers Union, and the A. P. I. and railroad union, involved went on without fanfare, the President's board of inquiry continued checking into the facts in the dispute.

As soon as the board reports on those facts, the President may ask Attorney General McGrath to seek a court injunction to force the balance of the 50,000 idle workers to return to the lead, zinc and copper workings.

Kennecott employees after voting on whether to accept the 15-cent settlement, were expected to be back at work in force by Tuesday.

New Hands Take Over Crime Probe

Washington, Sept. 1 —(AP)—The senate crime investigating committee officially passed to new hands today its crusade to drive crime overboard and their crooked political allies into prison or oblivion.

A fight promptly started over what course the senate commerce committee, the successor group, should take.

Senator Hunt (D-Wyo.), a member of both committees, announced he will urge a two-year's halt in formal investigations, declaring "we have shown the conditions which exist and should concentrate now on pressing for corrective legislation."

Senator Caphart (R-Ind.), a commerce committee member, told a reporter "I'm afraid that's exactly what the decision will be—and if it happens, about all the people are going to get from the crime investigation is two good television shows and a book."

His reference was to televising of the crime committee hearings, written by Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn.), former committee chairman.

Senator Wiley (R-Wis.), a member of the expiring committee, said he felt the inquiries should continue. He was critical of shortcomings he said are in a final report the group filed with the senate yesterday. It urged "captive communities" to shake off the shackles of crime and corrupt politics, and band together for a war on crime.

Wiley said the report, filed as the group's last official act, "should have spelled out to the commerce committee specific areas still requiring investigation."

Instead it merely recommended that "the study of organized crime be continued."

Wiley's remarks were in a prepared statement released through his office. He is in San Francisco, to attend the Japanese peace treaty conferences.

The nation's 1951 rye production is estimated at 24,000,000 bushels, about 6,000,000 under the 19-year average but nearly 1,000,000 above last year.

First Report of Salvation Army Drive is $832

A meeting of Salvation Army campaign workers last night reported some $832 collected toward the $2,400 quota for the county.

However, the report was partial and only 21 of the 52 workers were present.

The campaign will continue next week.

Copper Strike End to Speed Production

Washington, Sept. 1 —(AP)—Settlement of the strike at Kennecott Copper Corp., producer of 35 per cent of the nation's copper, may have paved the way for a early end of the nationwide shutdown which threatened to slow up the defense program.

Kennecott and union leaders reached an agreement yesterday after President Truman called for federal action to end the strike.

Negotiations behind the scenes were started at once with the three other major producers. There were hopeful signs that by Monday, at least, settlements would follow at the far flung operations of Phelps-Dodge Corp., American Smelting and Refining Co., and Anaconda Copper Co.

The latter probably will seek a price increase if it bows to the 15-cent "work or wage" rise granted by Kennecott to its more than 9,000 workers in Utah, Nevada and New Mexico.

Kennecott had agreed earlier to set up a pension system which it estimated would add another 4 1/2 cents to the cost of the raise.

Kennecott indicated it would not go after a price rise. But if Anaconda, which has much higher-cost mining operations below the surface in Montana, gets an increase from the office of price stabilization, the other firms may follow suit.

While the secret bargaining talks with the Independent Mine, Mill and Smelters Workers Union, and the A. P. I. and railroad union, involved went on without fanfare, the President's board of inquiry continued checking into the facts in the dispute.

As soon as the board reports on those facts, the President may ask Attorney General McGrath to seek a court injunction to force the balance of the 50,000 idle workers to return to the lead, zinc and copper workings.

Kennecott employees after voting on whether to accept the 15-cent settlement, were expected to be back at work in force by Tuesday.

Red Delegates Pass Through Ogden, Utah

Ogden, Utah, Sept. 1 —(AP)—The Russian delegation to the Japanese peace conference at San Francisco passed through Ogden today en route to the city.

The delegation, which included Prime Minister Bulganin, arrived in Ogden at 10:30 p. m. and were met by a group of newsmen and photographers who got one glimpse through an unshuttered window of four persons playing cards.

When the group saw they were being watched they pulled down the blind.

The American riding in the car had retired for the night.

When the train passed through Chicago the Chicago Sun-Times said the American was J. F. Butler of San Francisco, a printer.

The paper said efforts were made to keep him off the car at New York but he was allowed to keep his reservation among the Russians when he declared:

"I'm no Russian, I'm Irish, and I'm going to get on that car."

Railroad crewmen who brought the train from Green River, Wyo., to Ogden, said the Russians acted like an American group, with all of them—including Gromyko—lining for meals in the diner. One of the trainmen obtained Gromyko's autograph.

Newsmen meeting the train in Ogden were unable to verify reports there were demonstrations against the Russians when the train passed through Green River and Rock Springs, Wyo.

Rodeo, Star-Studded Revue Will Feature Entertainment at Third District Show

Entertainment that will please everyone has been scheduled for the Third District Livestock Show here September 24-29. Manager Bob Shivers announced today.

Burr Andrew's famous rodeo will perform the first three nights of the fair and a star-studded revue, "Guys and Gals" has been booked for the final three nights.

Manager Shivers said today that the entire revue guarantee had been underwritten by merchants and businessmen of Hope. He said the business establishments had taken over admission tickets and will sell them to the public with individual merchants and businessmen guaranteeing sales.

"It's the only way we could get a show of this type," Mr. Shivers indicated and highly praised the cooperation of Hope business houses.

The revue is the best in musical entertainment and features the orchestra of Teddy Phillips, a young man of 30.

Phillips started his musical career while in high school at Chicago. He was the protégé of the late Ben Bernie and when he left school the "Old Maestro" gave him a key spot in his band.

At Bernie's death he left his entire musical library to young Phillips. The young musician then joined Ted Weems' orchestra and worked with Lawrence Welk before deciding to organize his own band.

Featured with Phillips' band is Lynn Hoyt, soft speaking Tennessee Miss who sings rhythm tunes, novelty and occasional ballads. The entire revue features some 60 artists.

Hope Post Office box subscriptions will be discontinued as soon as they expire. Those living just outside the city carrier system may subscribe at 25 cents per week and pick up their copies at The Star office.

100 - Degrees Plus Grips Most of Arkansas

Yesterday the mercury climbed to a fraction over 105 degrees—but its been hotter here this year by a full degree.

And there is no relief in sight according to the weather man. The forecast is fair to partly cloudy with continued high temperatures.

The hottest spot in Arkansas yesterday was Arkadelphia with 109 degrees and Prescott reported 107 degrees.

Hope School officials are scheduled to meet and discuss a possible delay in the opening of school, due to the intense heat.

However, one official pointed out that school doesn't actually start until the second week in September and the weather could change by that time.

So far as known at the present time the school schedule as published will be carried out.

Little Rock, Sept. 1 —(AP)—Arkansas' latest heat wave slid into its fourth day today. Temperatures above the 100-degree mark were forecast for virtually all points.

Heat records topped over the state yesterday. It was the hottest day many sections of the state had had in four years.

The hottest spot was Arkadelphia, which reported 109 degrees, the highest the mercury has been there in 15 years.

It was 104 degrees in Little Rock, two above the season's record set Thursday for the capital city and the hottest day since Sept. 1, 1947, when it was 107 degrees.

The U. S. weather bureau said yesterday was the hottest day on record for Little Rock. The previous high was 103 degrees in 1917. Other high readings over the state:

Conway, 106 degrees; Magnolia, 107; Pine Bluff, 106; Prescott, 107; Fort Smith, 104; Texarkana, 104; Eureka Springs, 103; El Dorado, 104; Ravenna, 102; Walnut Ridge, 100; and Fayetteville, 100.

Water consumption in Little Rock yesterday was the highest since the municipal water works installed that 21,000,000 gallons water meter.

And the hot weather brought a warning from the city health officer, Dr. Mason G. Lawson, that opening of school next Tuesday would be as such a good idea.

He said he had talked to several pediatricians (physicians who specialize in children's diseases) and the consensus was that during the heat wave the pupils would be better off at home.

The school board has been contemplating delaying school opening until Sept. 10. A decision is expected Monday.

Opening schools at Harrison already has been delayed a week because of hot weather.

Two Persons Hurt in Accident on Fulton Bridge

Two persons were injured in an auto collision near Fulton bridge on Highway 97 about 5:30 p. m. Friday.

W. E. Miller of Texarkana suffered lacerations of the scalp and nose and a fractured left leg and possible fracture of the right knee.

J. D. Crowell, 68, also of Texarkana received lacerations of his knee and eyelid.

They were taken to Texarkana for treatment.

Pacts Signed at Jap Treaty Conference

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

San Francisco, Sept. 1 —(AP)—The United States, Australia and New Zealand today sign a mutual defense treaty extending this country's security guarantee over a vast new area of the world.

It provides another link in a future Pacific-wide military alliance against the Communist threat and is a certain-thing for next week's Japanese peace conference.

Arriving by plane yesterday, secretary of State Acheson in an obvious reference to Russia said the day's pact shows which are the peaceful nations and which are those that "talk peace while taking action that may impair and prevent the strengthening of peace."

The tripartite pact is conceived by its creators as raising a warning flag to Moscow against any aggressive thrust into the Southeast Pacific. At the same time it offers a barrier in the way of any future resurgence of Japanese empire.

It will be signed at the historic presidio of San Francisco, headquarters of the U. S. Sixth Army, in a setting of military pomp with artillery booming 19-gun salutes to each delegation.

Just before signatures are penned on the three-way treaty, Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko is scheduled to lead Russia's 10-member delegation into town for the Japanese peace treaty conference. That conference will be opened by President Truman Tuesday night at the San Francisco Memorial opera house, birthplace of the United Nations.

A 20-member Japanese delegation to the peace treaty conference arrived in Honolulu Friday night and is due here Sunday. The delegation is led by Premier Shigen Yoshida.

Today's treaty signing, like the conclusion in Washington Thursday of a similar U. S.-Philippines defense pact, stands with the Japanese peace treaty set for September 8 as part of a great Allied plan to secure the Pacific against any extension of Communist power.

The tripartite and U. S.-Philippines treaties are beyond Russia's

British Bases to Get Radar Screen

Washington, Aug. 31 —(AP)—The U. S. air force is planning a "radar screen" for its bases in Britain, Western Europe and the Mediterranean area.

An air force spokesman estimated today that "a sizeable part" of the $1,071,000,000 requested in Congress for "classified" air force construction overseas will go into such an air raid warning and patrol system.

Authorization for the spending is part of $3,743,000,000 military construction bill approved by the House and now pending in the Senate.

Work has been speeded up on the $401,000,000 defense warning system around the U. S. and Alaska. This radar screen is being constructed to give advance warning against possible surprise attacks from the air.

The exact number of warning stations and their locations are secret. Those in this country and Alaska work with similar installations in Canada under the mutual Canadian-U. S. defense plan.

reach. But Gromyko is expected to do his utmost to wreck, stall or delay the signing of the Japanese treaty, which the United States and Britain are sponsoring as the keystone of the whole security project.

Acheson, Sir Carl Berendsen, New Zealand's ambassador to Washington, and Australian Ambassador Percy C. Spender will sign the Southwest Pacific defense treaty at 4:30 p. m. CST.

The whole program was worked out to emphasize the essential military nature of the undertaking. The 701st military police battalion was ordered to mount a 175-man guard of honor for the three delegations.

A 19-gun artillery salute was ordered to honor each of the three chief delegates. The Sixth Army band was tuned up to play each country's national anthem.

The signing ceremony itself was arranged for the service center for enlisted men and women at the military post. The structure is a modern building in Spanish style with great windows opening upon San Francisco bay.

In the ballroom of the $350,000 building, chairs for 250 persons were drawn up about a big table at which the treaty was to be signed.

DOROTHY DIX Keep Your Friends

Dear Miss Dix: Am I selfish to expect my fiancé to give up his friends for me? We always seem to be arguing over this problem, as he feels free to go out with them the nights he is not with me—which is about three or four nights a week. However, he does not approve of me going out with girl friends. I think we should both give up our friends except for an occasional visit or a double date. I can't understand how a man who is engaged can go out for good times with the boys. Will he settle down when we are married?

the wonderful work she does and how indispensable she is." She always has to have the best of everything—if one of us has a new dress, she boasts of one she has that's ten times better. Then, she has a boy friend with whom she is very much in love. We are constantly told how wonderful he is, but he is always breaking dates with her, sometimes neglects her completely for days on end, never gives her a gift—even on her birthday. We have to listen to all these details, but she pays no attention to anyone else's stories.

GINNY

Answer: A happy medium is the best solution to your problem, as it is to almost everything. Most engaged couples become so wrapped up in each other that all former friends are neglected and eventually lost—a most unwise policy. The glamour of romance doesn't last very long and it soon becomes apparent that two people cannot be as self-sufficient as they were in courting days. No friends ever fully takes the place of old ones, who know more dear as the years go by.

They Take Second Place

With marriage, the companions of our youth should be relegated to second place, of course, but not abandoned completely. Your fiancé may be overdoing the good times he has with the old gang, but the real error here is his insistence that you give up your friends. This you should absolutely refuse to do. On the nights he is out without you, you should be free to go to movies, for walks—even skating or bowling.—with other girls.

It is, to say the least, unusual for a man in love to willingly spend so much time away from his sweet heart. You should know his temperament by now, and it is up to you to judge whether or not his devotion will carry over to the restraint of married life. If he is too set on having good times now, you do well to question his stability.

Dear Dorothy Dix: How can a group of office girls cope with a co-worker, whom I shall call Jane who is constantly bragging about

THREE GIRLS

Answer: Jane is a very confused girl, and a little help from one of you girls may mean a lot to her. Something—perhaps the miserable treatment she is receiving from the man she loves, or perhaps something earlier in her life—has given her a very warped outlook on the world, and her only sense of security comes through the importance she acquires in her own eyes by constant bragging. This is the simplest, and most frequent, form of self-delusion. Be assured behind this false front of braggadocio lives a very hurt and very bewildered young lady. Dependable friends could help overcome her inferiority. Change your attitude towards her, instead of seeing Jane as obnoxious interloper, try to understand her difficulty, and by helpful suggestion you might even succeed in getting her a new boy friend and a new interest in life.

Dear Miss Dix: I am a girl of 16 and am forbidden by my parents to go with boys. They are going on a vacation this summer and I will be staying with relatives. I am sure these relatives will give their permission to go with boys, and since they are taking care of me wouldn't it be all right for me to go out under these circumstances?

Answer: It most certainly would not. Since you are perfectly well aware of your parents' attitude on the subject, you'd be guilty of willful disobedience to take advantage of their absence.

Colleges Start Grid Practice

Little Rock, Sept. 1 —(AP)—Football practice got under way today at most Arkansas colleges, and some of the teams will open this season in only two weeks.

As the head-knocking began, Henderson, the defending champion, and Southern State generally were viewed as the teams to beat in the Arkansas Intercollegiate conference race.

Henderson Coach Duke Wells greets 15 lettermen. At Southern State, Coach Elmer Smith has 10 lettermen. Ouachita 13; Arkansas State 24; Arkansas Tech 7 and Little Rock Junior college 9.

European Reds in Korea to Be 'Marked'

Seoul, Korea, Aug. 31 —(AP)—European communists show up on the Red battle line in an international brigade, an Allied combat officer said today. "They'll be marked men."

There have been persistent but unconfirmed reports that the Reds have recruited several thousand Europeans for such a brigade.

These troops are reported to have moved into North Korea recently. The latest rumors say they are somewhere between the western battle line and Pyongyang, the Red capital.

If there is such a force, and they are combat troops, an Allied front line officer said, "I feel kind of sorry for them."

"The Chinese and North Koreans are tough fighters. But a lot of our boys figure they're just stooges for the Russians."

"But these other guys are coming out here with their eyes open. They'll be marked men, believe me."

"If we see any European Communies out where the shooting is going on, you can bet your bottom dollar our boys will make an extra effort."

Persistent stories that the Reds were forming an international brigade have never indicated whether they would be combat troops, technical advisers or members of service units.
